What the Covid-19 scandal really reveals, according to two years of parliamentary inquiry.

(https://reseauinternational.net/mentions-legales/)

On December 4, 2024, a US Congressional committee released an explosive (https://oversight.house.gov/wp-content/uploads/2024/12/2024.12.04-SSCP-FINAL-REPORT-ANS.pdf) document . Two years of hearings, over a million pages reviewed, dozens of witnesses questioned under oath. The result, contained in 557 pages , was produced by the Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Pandemic. It bears a name that few dare utter without trembling: the Covid-19 scandal.

This text does more than simply recount a pandemic. It documents, with supporting evidence, alleged lies and misappropriated funds. It also reveals alleged attempts to suppress the truth. This report bears the mark of the Republican majority that spearheaded it. The Democratic members of the same committee responded with their own counter-report, titled "Partisan Probes Over Pandemic Prevention and Preparedness ." The battle of narratives is therefore far from over.

But beyond partisan divides, the facts cited do indeed exist. The emails, figures, and testimonies are all there in black and white in the official archives. On one side, facts that are difficult to dispute. On the other, a battle of interpretation that continues to divide scientists and corrupt, overly involved political figures.

To understand the scope of this case, one must delve into the details of its revelations, proceeding section by section, without giving in to either exaggeration or minimization. Consider the facts, and nothing but the facts.

The origin of the virus, between troubling clues and limited confidence

The report's starting point remains the very origin of the virus. Investigators point to a genetic peculiarity, the infamous " furin" cleavage site. According to them, this characteristic is absent from all previously known closely related coronaviruses. They also note that a virology institute based in Wuhan had been conducting gain-of-function research for years. This work was allegedly carried out under biosafety conditions deemed insufficient.

Even more troubling, several researchers at this institute reportedly fell ill in the fall of 2019. Their symptoms resembled those of Covid-19, even before the first cases were identified at the Wuhan market. The report relies on a State Department memo from January 2021. This memo was subsequently corroborated by a US intelligence assessment published in 2023.

He goes further, claiming that an influential scientific article, " Proximal Origin , " was allegedly commissioned by Anthony Fauci himself. This article, however, was used as a reference to rule out the laboratory theory. Caution is still advised on this sensitive issue. American intelligence agencies themselves remain divided on the matter, but in January 2025, the CIA made a significant shift in its position on the case. It now considers the laboratory theory more likely!

Deleted emails, misspelled words, a disposable phone…

Beyond the question of origins, it is the mechanics of silence that are most striking and shocking. A code of silence and cover-up techniques worthy of the mafia! Investigators assert that the president of the NGO EcoHealth Alliance lied to Congress. This organization was funded by federal grants for its research conducted in Wuhan. The report also highlights that a mandatory annual report was submitted nearly two years late.

(https://reseauinternational.net/mentions-legales/)

A former scientific advisor close to Fauci, David Morens , is of particular concern. He allegedly boasted in writing about knowing how to ″ make emails disappear . ″ This maneuver, according to him, was intended to preempt access to information requests. NIH employees are said to have deliberately misspelled certain sensitive keywords. Terms like "EcoHealth" or "gain-of-function" were thus intentionally distorted. The goal was simple: to complicate searches in public archives.

One scientist involved in the exchanges reportedly even used a disposable phone ! He referred to one of his contacts as his " manager ," an ambiguous term. This expression evokes espionage more than traditional academic research. The report adds that American funding may have indirectly reached the Chinese military . These connections are said to have been established through various scientific collaborations deemed opaque.

Another telling detail: a military research agency, DARPA , had already raised the alarm. It had refused to fund a similar EcoHealth project a few years earlier. The reason given: the lack of a robust plan addressing the risks of gaining power. In retrospect, this decision takes on a completely different meaning today. A sign that the matter extends beyond the parliamentary sphere, the courts have become involved.

Le ministère de la Justice américain a constitué un grand jury sur ce dossier. Sa mission : examiner les circonstances entourant l'origine réelle de la pandémie. Ces éléments reposent sur des correspondances internes citées et authentifiées par la commission. Cela leur confère un poids qui n'est pas facile à balayer. Ils ne prouvent pas, à eux seuls, l'origine exacte du virus. Mais ils dessinent le portrait d'institutions bien plus soucieuses de leur image que de transparence. N'importe quel humain digne de ce nom et qui utilise encore son cerveau sait ce qui s'est passé.

Quand la Maison Blanche aurait fait taire les voix dissidentes

Vient ensuite un volet tout aussi sensible : celui de la censure. Le rapport reprend les conclusions d'une autre commission, publiées en mai 2024. Selon ce texte, l'administration Biden aurait pressé les grandes plateformes technologiques. Meta, Google et Amazon auraient modifié leurs règles de modération sous cette pression. La thèse du laboratoire figurait justement parmi les sujets les plus surveillés.

Mark Zuckerberg lui-même a confirmé la chose dans une lettre publique. Il l'a adressée en août 2024 à un responsable du Congrès américain. Ce document reste vérifiable indépendamment du rapport, ce qui renforce sa crédibilité. Il y écrit que l'administration a «pressurisé ses équipes pendant des mois».
Cette censure visait même de simples contenus humoristiques ou satiriques, selon ses propres mots.
D'autres échanges montreraient que le patron de Meta regrettait déjà d'avoir cédé.

Le rapport évoque également un effort coordonné visant l'immunité naturelle. Cette immunité, acquise après une infection, aurait été publiquement minimisée sans base solide, ce qui est une négation pure et simple de la médecine ! Plusieurs études évoquaient pourtant une protection réelle, bien que variable dans le temps. En resserrant le champ des opinions jugées acceptables, l'effet aurait été contre-productif. Les autorités sanitaires auraient ainsi nourri, malgré elles, la défiance qu'elles redoutaient.

C'était capital pour forcer à la vaccination ! En d'autre terme le virus complet n'immunise pas par contre le vaccin oui ! Ce qui d'une bêtise abyssale. Ce fut la même stratégie pour le traitement qu'il fallait nier — ivermectine, hydroxychloroquine, vitamine D… — afin d'imposer les injections.

Des milliards envolés et un gouverneur aux crayons trop zélés

Le dernier grand axe du rapport quitte le terrain scientifique. Il plonge dans celui, tout aussi vertigineux, des finances publiques. Les inspecteurs généraux cités avancent un chiffre qui donne le vertige. Plus de 191 milliards de dollars auraient été versés frauduleusement au titre du chômage. À cela s'ajoutent près de 200 milliards de dollars de pertes supplémentaires. Ce second montant combine les programmes de prêts garantis PPP et EIDL. Cela représente environ dix-sept pour cent des sommes totales distribuées aux entreprises. C'est le prix de la corruption passive qui a permis la gigantesque escroquerie.

Des identités volées, des dossiers gonflés, parfois de simples copiés-collés ont suffi. L'argent public s'est ainsi envolé à une échelle presque industrielle. Certains fraudeurs auraient même utilisé les mêmes méthodes sur les deux programmes à la fois. Un détail mérite qu'on s'y attarde tout particulièrement ici. Seuls 836 millions de dollars ont, à ce jour, été récupérés par la justice. L'écart avec les 191 milliards estimés résume, à lui seul, tout le problème. Il illustre la difficulté de transformer un scandale documenté en réparation concrète.

Mis bout à bout, ces éléments dépassent largement le seul débat sur les origines. Ils racontent l'histoire d'un système totalement corrompu et fou. La prestation de mercredi de Fauci au Congrès (https://www.lelibrepenseur.org/fauci-congres-5e-amendement-silence/) ne fait que confirmer le désastre, la débandade magistrale de la mascarade covidiste !

Vous imaginez bien que les escrocs manipulateurs de la Doxa parisienne vont ignorer ce rapport ou le minimiser malgré les preuves factuelles et les témoignages nombreux. Seul leur mensonge compte et doit s'imposer contre la réalité.

What matters is that the French and others understand how they were manipulated by the system. They need to understand that the system played with their lives to make money. They need to realize that not a single political party warned them, from La France Insoumise to the National Rally; they were all taking orders! They need to finally understand that all those they denigrated, calling them anti-vaxxers, conspiracy theorists, etc., were the ones who were right. If they finally understand this, then we can leave the EU and all its nonsense, roll up our sleeves, revive the country's prosperity, and save our freedom through our work. If they don't understand this, then in 2027 they'll go vote, it doesn't matter who, but they'll vote for a pro-EU party, and our decline will continue.
